RETURNED FROM TRIP TO COAST.

J. N. Gaines returned home this morning from a month's visit to the California coast, spending most of the time in San Francisco, where he attended every day's session of the Democratic convention. Coming down from Frisco, he spent a week at Los Angeles, where he went through the series of earthquakes, which Mr. Gaines describes as unpleasant, to say the least, and also visited the beaches seeing a number of Tombstone sojourners there. Mr. Gaines describes the San Francisco convention as one of the real unbossed conventions ever held in the country, and as a result the nomination of Governor Cox of Ohio, speaks for Democratic Victory again this year. San Francisco declared herself to the 50,000 visitors and delegates and the mammoth auditorium, housed fully 15,000 people daily, states Mr. Gaines, who will want to return to Frisco again, for there will be more conventions held there, if the opinions from visitors from all over the United States count for anything.

Mr. Gaines says the Arizona delegation stuck together, and gave a good account of themselves when it came to poll the votes.

INJURED BY WINDLASS.

Raymond "Swede" Jacobson was injured this afternoon while at work on the McAndrews-Esser-Jacobson lease near the State of Maine, when he was struck by the handle of a windlass while attempting to check the fall of a bucket loaded with rock. Jacobson was windlassing a bucket of rock out of the 25-foot hole, while J. W. Andrews, another partner was down below filling the buckets. When about half way up with a load of rock the bucket swung striking the shaft with the result that the handle of the windlass was jerked from his grasp and the bucket started down at a high speed. Jacobson knew that if it was not checked it would mean serious injury if not death to his partner down below and grabbed for the handle. It struck him on the top of the head, but he succeeded in checking the fall of the bucket. He was not knocked unconscious but was weak from the blow when McAndrews came to the surface. He was brought to town immediately where Dr. Hughart took several stitches to close up the scalp wound. The skull was not fractured. This is the second time within two years Jacobson has been injured, having been seriously injured when an ore bin caved in on his predecessor several tons of ore upon him. He was rescued and remained in the hospital several weeks as the result.
